1. Definitions and Interpretation

1.1 "Agreement" means the applicable Study Space legal document in which this definition appears, including its schedules and appendices.

1.2 "Founder" means the individual identified as founder, owner, project lead, lead architect, final decision maker, commercial decision maker, and repository administrator for Study Space unless a later signed written agreement states otherwise.

1.3 "Contributor" means a trusted volunteer collaborator granted access to the Study Space repository or confidential project materials to contribute code, documentation, design, testing, planning, research, or related work.

1.4 "Project" means Study Space, including all current and future software, source code, documentation, designs, databases, configurations, architecture, services, APIs, plugins, applications, websites, brands, roadmaps, and related materials.

1.5 "Repository" means any Git repository, issue tracker, package registry, deployment console, documentation workspace, or related development system used for Study Space.

1.6 "Project Materials" means all code, documentation, designs, architecture diagrams, database schemas, templates, prompts, roadmaps, tests, configuration files, deployment scripts, and related work product created for or supplied to Study Space.

1.7 "Confidential Information" means non-public information concerning Study Space, including source code, architecture, credentials, security posture, user information, business plans, roadmaps, financial information, founder strategy, and contributor discussions.

1.8 "Pre-Existing IP" means technology, tools, libraries, snippets, templates, workflows, inventions, know-how, or other intellectual property owned or controlled by a party before contribution to Study Space or independently developed outside the Project.

1.9 "Open Source Software" means third-party software distributed under a license permitting use, copying, modification, or redistribution under stated conditions, including permissive, copyleft, source-available, and public-domain-equivalent materials.

1.10 "Personal Data" means information relating to an identified or identifiable person, including user account data, profile data, study records, messages, logs, identifiers, and authentication-related metadata.

1.11 Headings are for convenience and do not affect interpretation.

1.12 References to the Project include future versions, modules, integrations, deployment environments, mobile applications, desktop applications, APIs, plugin systems, and successor products.

1.13 A reference to writing includes a signed electronic agreement, repository policy acknowledged in writing, or other legally recognized electronic record approved by the Founder and counsel.

1.14 If there is a conflict between this document and mandatory law, mandatory law controls, and the affected clause should be narrowed rather than invalidating the entire document.

2. Confidentiality Terms

1. Protected Information

1.1 Confidential Information includes source code, architecture, credentials, security events, vulnerabilities, roadmaps, business plans, user information, AI plans, integrations, financial information, repository activity, and contributor communications.

1.2 Confidential Information may be oral, written, electronic, visual, technical, business, or learned by access to systems.

1.3 Study Space user data and credentials are always Confidential Information.

2. Use Restrictions

2.1 A receiving party may use Confidential Information only for approved Study Space purposes.

2.2 No party may copy, publish, train models on, benchmark, reverse engineer, disclose, or exploit Confidential Information except as approved in writing.

2.3 Credentials, API keys, tokens, production logs, and user data may not be stored outside approved systems.

3. Security Measures

3.1 The receiving party shall use at least reasonable care and no less than the care used for its own sensitive information.

3.2 MFA, device security, password managers, encrypted storage, and secure communication channels should be used where appropriate.

3.3 Suspected unauthorized access, disclosure, loss, or compromise must be reported immediately.

4. Exceptions

4.1 Confidentiality obligations do not apply to information that is public through no breach, already lawfully known, independently developed without use of Confidential Information, or lawfully received from a third party without restriction.

4.2 The receiving party bears the burden of proving an exception.

4.3 Source code, credentials, user data, and non-public security information should be presumed confidential.

5. Compelled Disclosure

5.1 If legally compelled to disclose Confidential Information, the receiving party shall provide prompt notice where lawful and cooperate in protective measures.

5.2 Only the minimum legally required disclosure may be made.

6. Return and Destruction

6.1 On request or termination, the receiving party shall return or destroy Confidential Information, except archival copies required by law or secure backups not readily separable.

6.2 Continuing confidentiality obligations apply to retained archival copies.

Legal Review Notes

1. Mutual NDA may be appropriate for collaborators, but Founder-specific asymmetry may be preferred because Study Space is founder-owned.
2. Duration should be selected by counsel; trade secrets should remain protected as long as they remain trade secrets.
